WHAT IS PROGRAM FOR ADVANCED COLLEGE CREDIT (PACC)?

The Program for Advanced College Credit (PACC) provides unique learning opportunities by offering college courses taught in your high school. These varied classes hold the same expectations, workload, learning activities, projects, and exams as college courses. Saint Mary's University faculty work closely with approved high school faculty to ensure that the courses are being taught as they would at Saint Mary's.

PACC supports its partner schools through ongoing educational opportunities based on university standards.

The PACC program allowed me to begin my college career a semester ahead and graduate early, which not only saved money but also enabled me to start my post-grad life early. I felt very prepared when I arrived at Saint Mary's since I had already participated in college-level courses. My advice is to take as many PACC courses as possible!
